

Education Terms & Conditions

yorkshire film archive

'Education' use of YFA material encompasses the following:

- teaching resources to be used in the classroom
- student research and viewing
- academic research and lecture screenings
- research, viewing and screening for lifelong learners
- media production projects that are a direct part of students' course of study
- education workshops and events within venues other than schools

Research and Viewing

- Initial research and viewing is on-site.
- The YFA is able to supply copies of material on DVD for Education use.
- Material supplied for Education use will have the YFA logo burnt in.

Media Production

Where YFA material is used in student media production projects, the following additional Terms apply:

- Productions must include an onscreen credit worded "Yorkshire Film Archive". The YFA Logo will be provided on request.
- A copy of the finished work will be deposited at the YFA for formal acquisition.
- Generating copies of original YFA material is prohibited and any copies supplied by the YFA must be returned within one month of completion of the final production.
- Footage will be released on a strictly non-commercial basis under the condition that in the event the production is offered any commercial distribution, YFA must be contacted as a new contract and additional fee will be required at this time.
- 'On site' screenings at the students' HEI are permitted within the Terms of the license. Where productions are entered into festivals or competition, YFA must be contacted to extend the license for this purpose.
- If YFA material is required for websites or other interactive media, the site must be linked to YFA's website and the material must not be made available for download. In such cases the user will be charged a reduced commercial rate to be negotiated with the Yorkshire Film Archive.

Any material obtained from YFA should only be used in the context agreed with the Archive. Any deviation from this agreement will result in breach of copyright.